MOUNT ROYAL COLLEGE TO CELEBRATE MILESTONE

The Board of Governors of Mount Royal College are planning this month to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the College. The celebration program will begin on April 23rd with a public gathering in the auditorium of the College, to be followed by a reception in the dining hall.

Among the guests expected to be present are Lieutenant-Governor Walsh, Premier Aberhart, Chief Justice Harvey, President Wallace of the University of Alberta, Mayor Davidson, of Calgary, and representatives of the Bench and Clergy, members of Parliament, heads of various civic and community organizations, school principals and teachers, and representatives of educational organizations and other friends of the College.

In order that former students may have a part in the celebration a committee of the alumnae is arranging for a reunion and social evening on the Friday or Saturday following the public reception. The committee is trying to get in touch with every former Mount Royal College student in order to send them a formal notification, and they are asking all former students everywhere to send their names and present addresses to the College in order that they may receive an invitation.

A third evening's entertainment in honor of this anniversary occasion is expected to be held under the direction of the present Student's Council of the College to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary and also the fifth year of affiliation of the College with the University of Alberta, as a Junior College teaching the second year university Arts courses.

THOMAS J. POWELL, C.P.R. ENGINEER, DIES

Walking from his home to his engine in Shaunavon early Monday morning, Thomas Jefferson Powell, former well known C.P.R. engineer out of Frank and Lethbridge, suffered a heart attack and expired suddenly. He had suffered a minor attack during the week end, and physicians have decided that death was due to natural causes.

The late Mr. Powell was born at Cunningham, England, on January 7th, 1874. He started his railway service in Lethbridge on September 25, 1909, as an engineer, and remained there until April of 1933, when he was moved to Frank to replace Benj. Burrill on the push engine. While at Frank his seventeen-year-old adopted son Jack was drowned.

Mr. Powell was transferred to Shaunavon in September, 1935.

LOUIS ROSSE CHARGED WITH COQUITLAM MURDER

New Westminster, April 3.—Louis Rosse, 35, Port Coquitlam, has been charged with murder in connection with the death at 8 p.m. Thursday of R. H. Hanna, 50, Port Haney-Maple Ridge representative of an oil company. Rosse appeared in police court here later and was remanded for eight days.

Hanna's death is reported by provincial police to have followed a card game and drinking party in the hotel.

Thursday afternoon, Hanna went to his truck, apparently for supplies. On his way back, police state, he stopped at Port Coquitlam and went into the beer parlor of the Commercial Hotel.

Provincial Police state he was there several hours, apparently having met some friends. From this point on mystery shrouds the case.

About 8 p.m., police report, Hanna was seen by witnesses lying unconscious in the upstairs hallway of the hotel. When Dr. R. G. Langston arrived, he found the man dead in one of the rooms.

According to Sergeant H. H. Mansell, New Westminster detachment, Provincial Police, assisting Inspector Forbes Cruickshank in the investigation, Hanna had a black eye and cuts about the face. Other evidence indicates there was a scuffle, he states.

The body was removed to Columbia Funeral Parlors and Dr. E. H. McEwen may conduct a post mortem today.

The murder charge was laid against Rosse by Provincial Constable E. T. Davies, in charge of the detachment at Port Coquitlam. Police were searching for Rosse when he arrived at the city police office in New Westminster late Thursday and gave himself up.

Hanna was well known in Fraser Valley and New Westminster, having resided there more than 25 years. He is survived by his wife and one son, of McIntosh Road, Port Haney.—Vancouver Sun.

The remains of John Burrell, who died at Coleman on Friday last, were laid to rest on Monday afternoon, Rev. A. E. Larke officiating. Mr. Burrell was sixty years of age, and came to Coleman from Scotland in 1921. Surviving are his widow, two daughters and two sons.

Luscar Indians, Alberta senior hockey champions, were the guests of a public reception and dance given in their honor by Luscar citizens. Andy Hnatyshyn, in a short address of welcome on behalf of the citizens, congratulated the members of the club on their victory in the provincial playoffs and complimented them on their splendid showing throughout the season. Each member of the club was presented with a cup in appreciation of the successful bid made for the Alberta hockey crown.

DOES A RAILWAY COMPANY ALWAYS OWN THE RAILS?

The owner of a railway is not always the owner of the rails.

Judgment in a case of peculiar interest to the people of the Crows' Nest Pass was handed down recently by Mr. Justice Ford at Calgary. It was in the suit of Valentino Rinaldi versus the West Canadian Collieries Limited.

The plaintiff (latter) owns mining interests in the Pass. They owned and operated extensive works at Lille, and built and operated a line of railway from a point on the C.P.R. at Frank to Lille, about eight miles long. The company several years ago abandoned its works at Lille and stopped operation of the railway.

The defendant purchased a half section of land from the Hudson's Bay Company, through which land the railway passed, and he later proceeded to remove the rails for the purpose of selling them to another coal company. Before he made delivery, the plaintiff brought action in the supreme court to replevin and to enjoin the defendant from interfering with the rails and for a declaration that the rails were its property.

The action about a month ago was tried in Calgary before Justice Ford sitting without a jury, who reserved his judgment and has now just given it. The judge dismissed the plaintiff's action with costs, holding in effect that the rails had become real estate and when Rinaldi became the owner of the land the rails passed to him as part of the royalty.

D. G. MacKenzie, K.C., of Calgary, acted for the plaintiff company. C. F. Harris, of Lethbridge, and A. W. Miller, of Edmonton, acted for the defendant.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Hamilton, Ont., Herald went out of existence with the March 31 issue after 47 unbroken years of activity.

Montagu Norman has been re-elected governor of the Bank of England. He has held the post since 1920.

Premier Hepburn says that he has reconsidered his announcement of last October that he would retire from office at the end of the current session of the Ontario legislature.

The Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways will save $35,000 a year through unification of roundhouse facilities in Ottawa, Railway Minister Howe told the House of Commons.

Dr. W. H. Alexander, head of the classics department, University of Alberta, has received an appointment to lecture at Columbia University, New York, summer sessions in July and August.

Negotiation of a trade agreement with Soviet Russia "has been and still is under consideration." Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons in answer to a question from Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East).

And now it's mercy flights for horses. When eight teams ran out of feed 50 miles from Hudson, Ont., a passing plane was flagged down and the news taken to Hudson. Pilot Elhan Cynn then flew out with a load of hay.

Winings from lotteries do not come within the scope of the Income Tax Act, Dominion Tax Commissioner Paterson said at Toronto. "A lottery or a sweepstake is a straight gamble," he said, "and gambling is not recognized as source of income."

Switzerland will soon build 40 military aeroplanes for defence purposes on her frontiers, the federal council announced. The cost will be financed by a special air fund of 5,100,000 francs (approximately $1,667,700).

Discovery Of X-Ray

Röntgen Happened On Great Find 41 Years Ago

Like many other epoch-making discoveries in science, the discovery of X-rays was accidental. While investigating the passage of high-voltage electric currents through vacuum tubes, William Conrad Röntgen in 1895 happened upon this great find. Further research has resulted in the development of X-rays to a point, when to-day it is considered one of our major aids in the fight against the dread disease cancer. Its use in diagnosis in hospitals is well known and of extreme importance. Its application is being constantly extended.

But the X-ray has also found its place in industry. It is now possible to discover defects in various metals, by the use of the X-ray. This is of great importance when metal is used in construction subject to enormous pressure and strain.

At several of the most important points of entry, the Customs Department uses the X-ray in searching for articles intended to be smuggled into the country. Then again, in the jewellery business X-rays are used to ascertain the value of gems, particularly pearls. Another curious use to which they are put is to obtain information as to the authenticity of paintings by the Old Masters.

It is believed that no X-ray apparatus is manufactured in Canada. According to the records, the imports of surgical and dental instruments, surgical needles, X-ray apparatus, microscopes and complete parts for all the foregoing, ran to about $1,700,000 in 1934, coming mainly from the United Kingdom, United States and Germany.

Changed Order

Says Machine Age Will Eventually Take World Control

Henry Ford, combining a winter vacation in Georgia, with research on a new automobile motor, predicted that the machine age eventually will take control of the world from the financiers.

The multi-millionaire manufacturer said the changed order would rule the ability of the wealthy to "rule the universe" and that independence would come to the individuals who develop the machinery.

New Form Of Illumination

Synthetic Dusts Produce White Light As Sun Makes It

Powder light, a new form of illumination in which synthetic dusts glow with brightness exceeding electric lights, was made public for the first time at a meeting of the New York Electrical Society.

At the same time, a laboratory approach to the sun itself, a mercury vapor light, was shown, its temperature 23,000 degrees, the sun's surface heat and described as the hottest ever created by man.

The powder light is produced in tubes about a foot long and the diameter of heavy walking-canes. It is a cold glow, fluorescence, induced by invisible ultra-violet light produced electrically within the tube.

Brilliance of coloring never before seen, and efficiency even in white light twice that of ordinary electric lights were claimed for this discovery. Half a dozen of the new lights, in colors from green to pure white, were demonstrated by Dr. L. J. Butolph, research scientist of the General Electric Company at Nela Park, Cleveland.

There are hundreds of kinds of natural rock dusts which glow faintly—that is fluorescence—when invisible ultra-violet rays strike them. The new step of science is to create artificially dusts which glow with surpassing brightness, instead of the usual dull glow of nature.

The fluorescent colors of these dusts are brilliant and beautiful, as exotic as those of nature. By mixing several of them together the wizards of the new light have produced white light in the same way the sun makes it.

World Wheat Situation

Clearances From All Countries Improved During Last Month

During March there was a sharp improvement in the world movement of wheat, clearances from all countries being at the highest level of the crop year. Canada and Australia secured a very high proportion of the total trade in the four weeks, 42 per cent. in the case of Canada and 37 for Australia.

It is apparent that Canada may expect much less competition than usual in selling wheat until the 1936 crops are harvested. Russia will probably offer the first real competition. In the United States where an import "base" has been fixed in 1934-35 and 1935-36, an export surplus appears probable in 1936-37, although governmental policy regarding its disposal is not yet clear.

Present prospects suggest a surplus of such size that it could be profitably added to domestic end-of-season stocks without embarrassment.

Will Probe Accidents

Britain To Conduct New Crusade In Public Safety

The most exhaustive analysis of road accidents ever made in Great Britain will be begun in a new crusade to increase public safety.

It will be the latest step in a campaign to decrease accidents which, Leslie-Alfred Bellish, minister of transport, told the House of Commons, caused more than 2,500,000 casualties in the reign of the late King George.

This figure, he said, is "comparable with the aggregate of all killed and wounded in the forces in the United Kingdom in the First World War." He said, whose campaign already has met with some success announced the forthcoming analysis would involve study of about 200,000 separate occurrences throughout the country. Every road accident involving either death or injury will be analyzed in a search for the causes and possible remedies.

Gave Strange Idea Of World

Greek Philosopher Credited With Drawing The First Map

The credit for drawing the first map goes to a Greek philosopher, Anaximander, who lived between 500 and 600 B.C.

Anaximander's map represented a strange idea of the world, because so little of it was then-known, and, like all men of his time, he had no idea that the world was a globe.

He thought of it as completely flat, an expanse of water and land over which moved balls of fire. The earth itself he thought was quite stationary. He was among the earliest philosophers who attempted to conceive the origin of all things.

Man struggled for hundreds of years to find means of relieving himself of work. Out of that effort grew machinery. And now man finds himself out of a job. We greatly fear man is a "fathed."

Edward VIII. Will Not Be Governed By Old Customs

Nobody ever saw a photograph of King George walking in the street, nor of King Edward or Queen Victoria.

The other day King Edward VIII. walked out of Buckingham Palace with a friend and proceeded up the Mall about half a mile to a meeting at Buckingham Gate. A few working men gave a timid cheer and he tipped his derby to them.

Only once, it is reported, did King George venture to walk out of the Palace. About 100 yards up the Mall from the main gate, is the huge and beautiful marble memorial to Queen Victoria. The King had driven past it probably thousands of times, and he said one day he would like to have a close look at it. So he walked out and looked.

Queen Victoria once expressed a desire to ride in a street car. But, of course, she never could. There are few things the common people do that King Edward has not done, and if there is anything he wants to do, he'll just do it, king or no king.

Birthday Of King Edward

Saskatchewan Government Makes June 23 Statutory School Holiday

The birthday of King Edward VIII. June 23—from now on will be a statutory school holiday in Saskatchewan.

Provision for making this a holiday was written into the school act recently by way of house amendment to the school bill which was before the house.

Before the king's birthday was listed as an optional holiday. Now it has been changed and becomes a statutory school holiday.

Another change in the act gives the overseer of the village the power to proclaim a public holiday in the same way that as power was held by the mayors of cities and towns, and the Reeves of municipalities.

A Really Cold Spot

Visitors to the moon would find it pretty cold up there, the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada reports. Measured by thermometers used in this earth, the society estimates the temperature on the moon dips as low as 243 degrees below zero.

JESUS TRIUMPHS OVER DEATH

Golden text: Because I live, ye shall live also. John 14:19.

Lesson: Luke 24:1-35. Devotional reading: Revelation 5:9-13.

Explanations And Comments

He is Risen, Luke 24:1-12. In the account of the entombment of Christ, Luke tells us that the women who had come with him out of Galilee followed after and beheld the tomb and how his body was laid. They returned and prepared spices and ointments, and on the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment. On the following day, the first day of the week, they went back to the tomb with their spices and learned that the tomb was empty; Christ had arisen. All the way there they had been worrying about the great stone that blocked the entrance to the tomb. They knew they could not move it, and who would be there to move it for them? But they found the stone rolled away from the tomb, and on entering found the tomb empty.

It was tomb had so long been final. It was regarded as the end of all earthly pilgrimages. The women with the spices went out that Easter morning, thinking the tomb was final still—and victorious. They expected nothing but a bruised body needing loving ministrations against the quick undoing of oriental heat. The tomb, they thought, had ended the brief and luminous ministry of their Master. The only thing they could ask of the tomb was to let its stone be rolled away for an hour and then close and keep its own again. And lo, the tomb was empty! The fact leaped at them and stunned them. They had no predisposing expectation of a resurrection. But then and there began the Christian joy over the conquered tomb. (Gause Glenn Atkins)

Why seek ye the living among the dead? were the words the wondering, perplexed women heard. They were looking for their Lord in the wrong place. "He is not here." He is not to be found among the dead, for "he is risen," and will be found among the living. Remember how he awoke upon you when he was yet in Galilee, saying that the Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. A reference to the resurrection in the neighborhood of Caesarea Philippi, chapter nine. The women—Mary Magdalene, and Joanna (see 8:1) and Mary the mother of James, and the other women, returned from the tomb, and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest.

Not What He Thought The new prisoner had been in his cell when he began to realize that he was a disappointed man.

"I say, warden," he said, on the fourth day, "when does the fun begin?"

"Fun?" echoed the warden. "What fun? You don't expect fun in 'ere."

The prisoner looked amazed. "Lumme," he exclaimed: "then what did the judge mean when 'e said I was to come in 'ere for the time of my life?"

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, link Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread". Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Burt Townsend, Link's foreman, is able in the stomach, and Fleming is unhurt. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties. Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and to obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to ship with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz Hamilton has been paroled, and would arrive on the incoming stage, but that he thinks Link has made a mistake in getting Buzz released.

Buzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper and Jackpot Mell meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $500 they had obtained from the bank.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"Yuh can't fool me, Link Fleming!" The words spilled in a torrent from his quivering lips. "I got the truth about yuh. I got it right! Did you think there wasn't anybody in town man enough to put me wise?"

"Why, Buzz?" the girl pleaded. "What do you mean?"

"He turned on his most savagely. 'You ought to see through it but yuh don't. You've got control of our spread; I haven't any rights till I'm pardoned. That's what Kilgo wanted to get for me. Yes, you'd see through the scheme too, if you weren't so blind in love he's got yuh fooled! Every time he holds your hand—'

"That's enough, Hamilton!" Shamed so that her countenance fairly glowed with blushes, Helen looked away, uncertain how to deal with her drink-roused brother parroting sentiments obviously not original with him. "Please, let's not quarrel the first hour we're together again! After I've—I've prayed for you, and hoped and—"

"That's all right," he growled. "But I can't see how yuh ever fell for Fleming's lingo about that dam. There isn't a rancher in the county has faith in it. Book Torney said it wasn't any good, didn't he? You're shore to break our spread—trying to irrigate a heap o' sand!"

He pointed ahead, toward the foothills of the Captain Range a few miles away, topped by jagged peaks rising into serene blue sky. "That wasteland'll never be anything, no matter how much money yuh pour into it," Buzz declared emphatically. "Water'n' twenty cent ground!"

Link stared where he indicated but scarcely saw the yellowish expanse beyond low-lying buildings of the Triple H Ranch, on whose property they now rode. There was no denying how to win Hamilton's confidence, and bitterly reproached himself for having knocked the bottle away. Yet he knew right of Buzz drinking was like a knife turned in Helen's flesh; he had been forced to throw away the utter misery in her soft eyes.

"Hold on, oldtimer," he said in a controlled tone. "I don't think it'll be so bad after all. Silver Creek's only thirty-two feet across—where we're damming. There's no rock sides for a mile back that'll hold an awful lot of water. Of course, we dug a cut-off while the dam's being laid, and we're digging irrigation ditches through that wasteland."

"We've got a good engineer in charge," he went on, watching hopefully for even a modicum of interest. "His name's McLendon, and he's built a lot of dams. It's like this," he continued. "I'm standing seventeen-twenty-sixths of the cost, on account of having seventeen hundred acres to Helen's—yore—nine hundred."

"I'll admit, we've had pressed for money," Buzz had to raise first mortgages on our spread, and we gave a note for that eight hundred that was just stolen. But what if folks do call it Fleming's Folly? Inside of a couple of days they'll change their tune. Because the Silver Creek dam won't work. Nothing can stop us—we're going to increase the value of the Triple H and Star Loop at least three hundred per cent! If you ask me, a thousand per cent!"

Ending, he was conscious of Helen's eyes upon him wide and staring. It was as if he had called Link a liar, as if he had sneered: "I'll never work, and even if it does, I won't believe it!"

The partners exchanged discouraged looks. Buzz Hamilton's homecoming was not a success. If anything, he was an added obstacle, a thorn in their path, where already there were so many . . .

CHAPTER XI

Drawing rein in the Triple H yard, the riders saw two men in nondescript garb seated on the edge of the ranch house stoop, looking as if they had waited there some time. The pair rose with deliberation and ambled forward while Link and Helen exchanged questioning glances.

"Howdy, boys," Fleming greeted, uneasily aware of a truculent note in their bearing. "Anything wrong at the dam?"

One of the men, his leathery face thickly blacked with beard, spoke up. "There's plenty wrong at the dam. We want our wages and we ain't doin' another tap of work till we get 'em!"

"Said yuh'd pay us twice a month, didn't yuh?" growled the other. "We're weeks behind now. How about it?"

Link felt Helen and Buzz watching him and knew the girl was troubled, while young Hamilton's countenance wore renewed derision. He forced a grin and gestured impatiently. "Boys, you don't need to worry about that money."

"Tug Orles turned to the girl. 'We're partners with Fleming, Miss. How about it?'"

"I'm sure you will be paid," she answered promptly. "But Mr. Fleming and I are rather hard pressed right now, and—er—it may be necessary for you to give us a little more time."

"They exchanged significant looks. 'We know yuh want to town this mornin', Fleming. Somebody's gonna throw yuh into bankruptcy, the cement guys or somebody. Yore creditors are holdin' in for cash same as us guys workin' on yore foot dam. But we found out wages get paid first, so there ain't gonna be no pay for yuh to wiggle outa that!'"

Surprise flooded his lean countenance. "Somebody's fooling you, boys. I don't know anything about creditors throwing us into bankruptcy. He turned to Helen. 'Do you?'"

She shook her head. "Of course not. The dam will be finished."

"Mean to say yuh didn't go to Rawhide to fix things?" demanded Orles with suspicion.

"Tug, Miss Hamilton and I went to Rawhide to—meet Buzz. He was just paroled to me, and that little affair last fall is all forgotten. I wish," he added as an idea struck him, "that you'd spread the word around. Buzz has paid his debt, and he's making a clean start. Jack, I reckon if your brother's come home after—being away—you'd go meet him, wouldn't you? That's what Miss Hamilton did, and I went along."

Helen flashed him a grateful look. Even the ex-convict seemed impressed with Link's words, and it seemed that Buzz straightened and threw his shoulders back.

"But how about wages?" insisted Kevin. "What do we get paid? We ain't workin' for our health!"

"Of course not. I'll tell you right out, we're pressed for cash, just like Miss Hamilton said. We make no secret of it. But there are arrangements under way to pay you, and they shouldn't go through till I figure out something else. If you go back on us now, we might go broke. Then I reckon yuh'd be out o' luck."

"But if you stick," he proceeded, watching their reactions, "I'll give you my word you'll get cash as soon as possible. And backin' me up, Miss Hamilton'll tell you the same thing."

Helen nodded, her eyes fixed hopefully on their grim faces. The pair shifted weight and pursed their lips. Finally Tug Orles turned half away. "We got to find out what the other say that're waitin' at yore spread. We come over here to be shore there wasn't no fast ones pulled on us."

This information struck fresh apprehension to his heart, and looking out the corners of his eyes at Helen, he saw that worry possessed her as well. But they concealed their feelings and smiled tolerantly, as if the matter would soon be adjusted.

"I ride over to the ranch with you, boys," Link announced. "Where's your homes?"

They went to fetch them behind the ranch house, and it did not escape Fleming that Kevin and Orles had hidden their mounts from view of anyone approaching from Rawhide. This indicated, of course, that they actually feared Link and Helen would not have come to the Triple H had they known of the reception committee.

"Where'd Buzz go?" he asked in a low, angry growl. "A troubled expression came to her face. 'He went inside. And Link, I just know he has another bottle of whiskey.'"

"They stood a moment considering. 'Well,' he decided, 'I reckon I better go talk to him.' But she touched his arm in restraint. 'I know how Buzz is, very irritable when he's been drinking. Better if we let him alone. I hope,' she added bravely, staring toward the mountains, 'he hasn't started to be like he was before.'"

"You know," Helen went on in a tone of wistful regret, "Buzz was never like the rest of us. Father said when he was dying that I should be very careful how I treat him. Buzz—oh, he has temptations we don't feel. He can't resist gambling and drinking. It will be hard to keep him out of bad company."

The fervor of her anxiety carried straight to the Star Loop owner's heart. Fleming wanted to comfort her, to drive away every little groove that marred the satiny brow showing under her Stetson. He gazed at Helen with eyes brimming affection, and the slender hand on his arm exerted pressure that proved she understood and was grateful.

"You've enough to worry about. Leave Buzz to me. How will you handle the men?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "Reckon they'll go back to work all right. But guess that eight hundred being gone makes things hard. You didn't

King Of Longevity

Mohammedan Indian Emigrated To West Indies in 1811

After seeing 135 years feet by in his lifetime, Charles Champion, a Mohammedan Indian who emigrated to the West Indies in 1811 at the age of eight, does not want to live more than five months longer.

Since the death in June, 1934, of the aged Turk, Zaro Agha who said he was 160, Champion, true to his name, claims to be the King of Longevity, the oldest man in the world.

One of the first settlers on the island of Trinidad, the patriarch attributes his longevity to moderation in eating, sufficient sleep, and abstinence from alcohol. But now he feels his long life nearly the end he almost eagerly awaits. He says he has earned "the last long rest."

A living history of the growth of the colony of Trinidad, Champion has a couple of crumbling and faded immigration certificates that he produces as proof of his great age. They state he migrated from Calcutta to Grenada on the sailing ship Fulwood in 1811 when he was eight years of age.

He worked 30 years on sugar plantations in Grenada with his parents before going to Trinidad in what is now Port of Spain.

He believes in the old maxim of "early to bed and early to rise," which to him means sleeping from six o'clock in the evening until four in the morning. To this day, he takes a four o'clock bath in a cool spring near his home every morning.

Until recently he never partook of alcohol. Now he has the occasional drink of wine or light spirits as a stimulant. He has been bothered for the last 30 or so years—since he turned the century mark—by not having any teeth.

His regular habits have kept him in remarkable condition and he still does not know the meaning of fatigue.

The Royal Signature

King Edward Still Writes Name With Familiar Flourish

King Edward, who has a new signature now that he's the monarch, has swung into writing his new name without any difficulty.

The king just an improvisation on the old one. When he was the Prince of Wales he signed documents "Edward P." Now it's "Edward R. L." Before becoming sovereign he always wrote the "L" after his name with a full loop. Now he adds a straight down stroke to form an "R" and affixes a perpendicular line for the "L."

He still adheres to his familiar final flourish from the ending of the "d" of his name, the flourish running the length of the name.

An Interesting Antique

Old Veterinary Book Was Printed In London In 1755

Lovers of antiques and old editions would be delighted to examine an ancient veterinary book, owned by the Talbot family, living north of Orkney, Sgk. It is a pocket edition five inches by eight inches, with leather binding. The paper is parchment like, creamed by age.

The peculiar type and queer spelling proves its extreme age. This book was given to the great grandfather of this family by Sergeant Pratt while he resided in northern Ireland. It was brought to Canada 56 years ago.

On the first page is "Printed in London for A. Millar in the Strand MDCCCLV. (1755)."

A little Scotch boy, having become an uncle at the age of four, was taken to see the new baby.

"What's the name, Sandy?" asked his sister, as the infant made the usual gurgling noises. Sandy cast a wary and inquiring eye round the room, and then replied: "It sounds like, 'Gie Sandy an apple'."

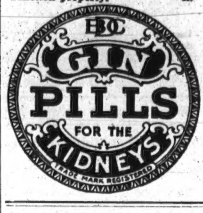

Neighbor: "Where is your brother, Freddie?"

Freddie: "He is in the house playing a duet. I finished first."

Canada's Northwest Territories comprise an area of 1,309,982 square miles, or more than a third of the entire land area of that country.

Little Helps For This Week

Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God. Matthew 5:9.

Grant us Thy peace, down from Thy presence falling.

As on the thirty earth cool night-dews sweet.

Grant us Thy peace, to Thy pure paths recalling.

From devious ways, our worn and wandering feet.

Have you ever thought seriously of that blessing given to the peacemaker? People are always expecting to get peace in heaven, but whatever peace they get there will be ready-made. We complain of peace made in heaven, but we don't make peace on earth; not the taking of arms against, but the building of nests amongst its seas of trouble. Difficult enough we think, but very few of us really try. We complain of peace made in many things, but we want liberty, amusement, money, and which of us knows that he wants peace? We should ask God, whose chosen reward is the gift of peace, to pour it into our souls so that everything else is made utterly vain, and all that makes for peace would be sweet to us forever.

A Novel Burglar Trap

Not Only Protects Property But Also Catches Thief

A novel "burglar trap" which not only makes it impossible to rob any safe to which it is fitted but also catches the thief has been invented by a Budapest policeman. The device, which has been patented, is extremely simple. A special container in which is a quantity of a secret gas is fitted inside the safe, in such a manner that when the burglar's tool pierces the safe it also pierces the gas container. The gas, which is in a compressed form, hisses out and catches the thief.

The Contributing Cause

Automobile Blamed For Falling Off

The extent to which hotels everywhere are failing to receive old-time patronage is generally recognized. In fact in most centres across the line the majority of them are now in receivership hands. The auto is generally regarded as the contributing cause, roadside camps and private homes receiving the bulk of the travelling patronage and creating the habit of looking for less expensive accommodation. In Ottawa, also, it is recorded that only about fifty members are making the leading hotel their headquarters for the present season, the other M.P.'s taking apartments, or in some instances, lodging at the Y.M.C.A.—Brantford Expositor.

Had Its Advantages

Slower Travelling Found Drivers Alive At End Of Day

Only 30 years ago six miles an hour on a highway behind a horse was considered good going. Of course, the cruising radius in such a vehicle was only about 25 miles a day at the maximum. Ten years later 30 miles an hour was considered a fair clip. And so on up to 90. Admitted, that if the tempo of all the surrounding life is accelerated, 45 miles an hour in 1936 may be no faster in "relativity" than was six-an-hour in 1906; but it may have the above-cited advantage over 90-miles-an-hour that the motorists are still alive at the end of the day.

The point of the matter is that time has not grown 10 times more precious in 30 years; whereas life has not ceased to be sweet. If it not sweet to the speeder, it may still be sweet to others on the same road.

IN SEARCH OF CANADA

"The Gateway," official organ of the University of Alberta, presents this illuminating geographic sketch of our Dominion.

Canada is a British possession surrounding Toronto. It is bounded on the East by Labrador, which is barren and Hudson's Bay, which is not so barren on 95-cent day. The west is not very well known, except in the west. Wheat is raised on the prairie. The price of wheat is raised in the elevators. More money can be made by raising the price than by raising the wheat, so they are thinking of doing away with the prairies.

Canada has two railway systems—the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific. They run from St. John and Halifax in the east into Vancouver and debt in the west. The government is at a loss to know why they operate the Canadian National.

They are trying to sell it to the Canadian Pacific. The Canadian Pacific is trying to sell the Canadian National to the government. The law of supply and demand tends to depress the price of railway systems.

They have two types of freight rates, discriminatory and favored. Discriminatory is the kind they use in your district.

When Jacques Cartier first discovered the country it was over-run by red men known as Indians. Now the country is over-run by red men known as Communists.

Canada is blessed with vast natural resources. Her people are a very industrious people, 1,200,000 are unemployed. Some of these are said to work for the government. The principal exports of Canada are lumber and hockey players for the Olympic Games. The Olympic Games are for the purpose of fostering international goodwill. Italy is holding her winter sports in Africa.

Lumbering is one of Canada's chief industries, and reforestation efforts prove that only God can make a tree. Mining is another important industry. An engineer in reviewing the mining industry as a whole said that it is being run into the ground due to heavy taxation.

The Doukhobors and Social Credit are peculiar to Alberta. Alberta is peculiar to the other provinces.

DIZZY FINANCE

Here is the financial record of the Alberta Government for the past week or ten days:

Sunday, March 28.—Premier Aberhart announces that Alberta "can and will" meet its maturing obligation of $3,200,000 at maturity.

Wednesday, April 1.—Alberta defaults on $3,200,000 maturity.

Thursday, April 2.—Compulsory refunding bill introduced in Legislature, affecting $160,000,000 public debt.

Friday, April 3.—Minister of Finance announces that public loan of $9,000,000 or more will be floated to retire savings certificates, defaulted last August.

Sunday, April 5.—Hon. Mr. Manning announces "the government is against repudiation."

Monday, April 6.—Hon. Mr. Cockcroft announces plan for provincial bank.

Monday, April 6.—Announcement of refunding plan to aid Alberta cities. Province to "guarantee" new city bonds at lower rate of interest. Lethbridge Herald.

Genius is the reward to men who develop their resources.

An exchange remarks: The standing at Edmonton at the end of the ninth innings of the first Social Credit world series is: Major Douglas out, Social Credit registration out, and dividends left on first—no hits, no runs, and three errors.

There is a New Glasgow in P.E. Island and another in Quebec, but the one which is largest and most important is that on the banks of the East River, Pictou County, Nova Scotia.—New Glasgow, N.S. Evening News.

The Alberta Social Credit League has been incorporated under The Societies Act. The object of the league is to stimulate and encourage a systematic study of present economic conditions and various proposals for economic reform, particular attention to be given to the principles of Social Credit.

Five years of uncertainty will wreck Alberta. It will drive out every bit of accumulated capital which can be gathered together. A lot of it is money which has been earned here, and is being taken away by men who know Alberta's possibilities. It is time a study of Alberta's capital needs were made in relation to the taxation problem.—Ex.

Mr. Treedman, of Edmonton, was in town over the week end, accompanied by Mr. Forsey, of Calgary. The goods were packed and shipped to Edmonton on Monday. Mr. Forsey met the train at the local depot on Sunday afternoon to say hello to his son Jack, who was enroute to Winnipeg with the Kimberley Dynamiters.

If Major Douglas, Major Magor, Major Boves and Major Hoople fail down on Mr. Aberhart, what about trying Major Schoof, probably the greatest of them all. Major Schoof is one of the oldest surviving members of the original mounties in Canada. He has been active since retirement in interest in preservation of law, fisheries, game of all descriptions, and is first and foremost in his class. He makes his permanent home in Claresholm, but spends the summer in the Peace River district, the winter at Bayside Farm, Corpus Christi, Texas, and the rest of his time lecturing in the best interests of Alberta as a whole as a tourist resort. He is a standing fish and game guardian for Alberta and British Columbia.

CREDIT WRECKED

BY SOCIAL CREDIT

A year ago last autumn the government of Alberta, then under the guidance of ex-Premier Reid, floated a bond issue at the lowest rate of interest in the history of the province. On the first day of April this year, the Aberhart government defaulted on its bond payment, and today Alberta's credit is at the lowest standing in the history of the province.

What occurred between these two periods to effect so startling a change in Alberta? Have general conditions become worse? Has unemployment increased? Have prices of farm products dropped precipitately? Has a calamity befallen the country?

The answer to all these questions is in the negative. The only thing that has happened to disturb the financial position of the province in the intervening months was the election of a Social Credit government headed by Mr. Aberhart.

General conditions are much improved over what they were a few years ago when farm prices were at the lowest levels and unemployment the greatest. In those past years the Alberta government of the day did not find it necessary or advisable to default. But the advent of this new Social Credit government has brought this condition of default on the province.

Premier Aberhart and his colleagues may be under the impression that they have done a smart thing, and have not been bluffed. But sane, conscientious citizens must indeed regret that this splendid province was the first of all Canadian provinces to default a bond debt. Such a step is contrary to all British traditions and conceptions of public responsibility. It is no feather in the cap of the Social Credit party, but just the reverse. —Calgary Herald.

SAVINGS CERTIFICATES REFUSED IN PAYMENT OF INCOME TAX

Alberta government savings certificates are evidently not being accepted by the government as cash, although bought as a safe investment, according to an implement dealer of the Taber district who offered the following incident from his own experience to prove the contention. Handling an attractive and well-known American make of small farm tractor, the dealer demonstrated one of these to a farmer patron. The farmer desired to buy, and being rather short of cash, offered Alberta government savings certificates instead. The dealer agreed and the transfer was made. The farmer got the tractor, and the dealer the certificates, which he turned in to the company in process of settlement. Having numerous agencies in Alberta, the company has an income tax to pay, and wrote the government proposing to turn in the certificates as part payment of the tax assessed; but the government refused to accept them.

LIBERAL MEMBER FOR VANCOUVER URGES NEW DEAL

Ottawa.—The voice of the hard-pressed municipalities was raised in the House of Commons when Gerry McGeer, Liberal member for Vancouver-Burrard and mayor of Canada's third largest city, urged a new financial deal for embarrassed cities and towns.

Canadian municipalities, the Pacific Coast member said, were being driven to the financial wall by relief burdens. He urged the government to handle relief on a national basis, easing the burden on provinces and municipalities to prevent repetition of Alberta's failure to meet its obligations.

"To-day, from one end of the country to the other, municipal governments nor provinces nor both combined, can continue to carry the proportion of the burden that has been shifted to the junior branches of government," Mr. McGeer warned. "Unless some adequate financial relief was extended by the Dominion 'many of our Canadian municipalities cannot escape bankruptcy.'"

The Vancouver mayor further continued his argument with an array of figures and opinions. He said municipal default in Ontario exceeded $11,000,000. Defaulting municipalities in Saskatchewan totalled 157, and 57 Quebec cities and towns were under control of the municipal commission.

Mr. McGeer said the total debt of Montreal was $208,000,000. The city's annual tax levy was $34,000,000, over half going to pay debt charges. And now special taxes were being proposed on everything from parking signs and new plumbing to night clubs.

The debate arose on second reading of the government bill to establish an employment commission, and drew from Eric Poole (S.C., Red Deer) an appeal for a national dividend, the basic remedy of the Social Crediters.

Unemployment, said the 29-year-old Social Credit, could never be solved by seeking export markets or borrowing money "or by a loan council to centralize financial control." It could be solved only when the government took over financial control from the banks and issued a national dividend which would equalize purchasing power and commodity prices.

Creation of the national employment commission was under fire from two sources—Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East), and John R. MacNeil (Cons., Toronto—Davenport) who agreed it offered no solution for distress conditions.

Edmonton Nurse Gets Year's Tuition At University of London
Montreal.—Nurse Caroline E. Sage of Edmonton has been awarded a scholarship providing for a year's tuition at Bedford College, University of London.

The announcement, made from the national office of the Canadian Nurses' Association, said Miss Sage would become a student in the course on public health nursing, as provided for by the Florence Nightingale International Foundation.

A graduate of the School of Nursing at the University of Alberta, Miss Sage is the third member of the Canadian association to win such a scholarship.

More Money Advanced

Further Loan Of $1,300,000 For Saskatchewan Relief Expenses

Ottawa.—Further financial assistance to the Province of Saskatchewan amounting to $1,300,000 has been authorized by Cabinet. It takes the form of a loan to cover the provincial share of relief expenditures in excess of the monthly grant-in-aid for the months of January, February and March this year.

A copy of the order-in-council authorizing the advance under the relief act was tabled in the House of Commons. Treasury bills of the province bearing interest at four per cent. and running for a year will be accepted as security.

Stabilizing Her Money

Belgrade.—Stabilization of their respective currencies in dealing with each other and creation of a triangular clearing house were decided upon by the governors of the national banks of the little entente countries (Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania) at the conclusion of a four-day conference here.

Move Was Rejected

Secret Meeting Of Social Crediters Refuses Lottery Idea

Edmonton.—Efforts in one faction of the Social Credit representation in the legislature to obtain legislation of lotteries for the benefit of Alberta hospitals were spilt in the Social Credit caucus and therefore will not be brought before the legislature, it was revealed.

A resolution which, had it obtained support of the caucus, would have been presented to the legislature, was presented to the Social Crediters' secret meeting.

This resolution was declared to have been a copy of the resolution passed a few days ago by the Saskatchewan legislature by J. Milidenberger, Maple Creek, M.L.A., that "this legislature is of the opinion that the parliament of Canada should enact such legislation as will permit any province of Canada to operate government-controlled lotteries in aid of hospitals."

Agrees In Principle

But Manitoba Not Committed To Participate In Loan Council

Winnipeg.—While the Manitoba government has agreed to the proposed Dominion-provincial loan council in principle, Premier John Bracken informed the Manitoba legislature the government is not committed to participate in it.

Questioned by W. Sanford Evans, Conservative leader, Premier Bracken said the Manitoba government has not considered details of the proposal.

Mr. Evans raised the question by drawing attention to publication of correspondence respecting the council between the Alberta and Dominion governments.

Metal Shipment Released

Consignment Which Was Wrongly Described Leaves For Germany

Halifax.—Customs officials have released four cartons of scrap metal consigned as Canadian nickel. It was placed aboard the Swedish American steamship Korsnord, bound for Hamburg, Germany.

The "nickel" was a part of a general flow of metals through this port to Europe, wrongly described in bills of lading which have kept customs men puzzled and worried.

The first major shipment, 73 cases labelled nickel cathodes, was held up March 13 and the United States freighter Liberty sailed without it. The consignment went forward later to Hamburg on another vessel.

Plan Scientific Survey

Ottawa.—General scientific survey of Baffin Land and surrounding territory will be made soon by a party of about six men. Thomas A. Manning of London, Eng., said here. Mr. Manning, heading the party, gave no details of the survey, but said it would be under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society and the British Museum.

Pilot And Student Killed

Southampton.—C. Nuttall, younger brother of Sir Keith Nuttall, chairman of one of the biggest civil engineering firms in Manchester, and H. C. Shorthorn Brings Good Sum

Won Grand Championship For Baby Beef At Calgary

Calgary.—Declared grand champion fat animal and grand champion baby beef at the Calgary spring stock show, a grade Shorthorn steer owned by Margaret E. Wilson of Edgewick, Alta., later was bought by T. Eaton Co. for 40 cents a pound. The animal weighed 840 pounds.

It was the 11th consecutive year a Shorthorn had won the grand championship in baby beef competition.

Second highest price in the stock sale was paid by T. Eaton Co. for a pure-bred Aberdeen Angus steer owned by John Henderson of Lacombe, Alta. The animal, weighing 630 pounds, was purchased at 26 cents a pound. The calf had placed first in the class for Aberdeen Angus baby beef and was judged reserve champion baby beef and reserve champion fat animal.

B. C. HOUSE HAS PASSED HEALTH INSURANCE BILL

Victoria.—British Columbia's legislature prepared for prorogation of its first session after legislating the first public health insurance bill in North America.

Designed to make available essential medical services to some 275,000 persons in the province, the bill, most important and also most controversial issue that faced members during the session, passed third reading by a 29 to 14 vote. It will not go into effect until so proclaimed by the government.

The vote, as in first and second readings, split party lines with seven government members joining two from the C.C.F. opposition, four Independents and one Unionist in opposing the measure. After third reading Premier Pattullo announced the legislature would prorogue. The bill is little changed from its original draft as submitted to the house last week.

Under its provisions some 125,000 employees with incomes ranging down from $1,800 annually will pay two per cent. of their wages but not more than 70 cents per week. Their employers will pay 1 per cent., but not more than 35 cents per week, of the employees' wages.

For this the employee, his wife and children will receive medical care from the physician or surgeon they may choose, free hospitalization, services of diagnostic laboratories and necessary drugs and medicines. Other medical services will be granted if sufficient funds are available.

The government's share will be $50,000, which has been earmarked in the estimates to set up an organization under which the scheme will be operated.

It will come under a commission composed of a chairman, vice-chairman and two or three members, their maximum remuneration to be $7,500, $6,000 and $2,500 annually respectively. The commission will be assisted by a technical advisory board of six members including the man of the workmen's compensation board, one physician, a representative of a women's organization and two others whom it may be deemed advisable to appoint.

Hon. C. G. Power Is Chairman Of Pensions Probe

Ottawa.—Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions and national health, was elected unanimously chairman of the House of Commons special committee on pensions and returned soldiers' problems.

The committee authorized the chairman to name members of two sub-committees which will deal with correspondence and the calling of witnesses respectively. Major Power suggested it would be unnecessary to call a large number of witnesses, and that the number might be limited to two or three on each subject.

The chairman said the Canadian Legion had signified its readiness to present evidence to the committee and desired to do so before Easter. It was decided to arrange to sit so as to facilitate this.

The committee decided to ask the house for authority to print proceedings in sufficient quantity to circulate among branches of the Canadian Legion.

Convicted As Spy

Former French Officer Charged With Selling Information To Germany

Metz, France.—Sixty thousand francs which Germany is accused of paying to a French spy were confiscated by authorities after Charles Cridgill, former aerial defence officer, was convicted and sentenced to prison.

Cridgill was charged with being in the employ of Germany to obtain documentary information and photographs of Metz aerial defences.

Prof. Philippe Altmeyer, a German charged with having sent Cridgill's material to the German intelligence service, was also sentenced and was fined 5,000 francs. In addition, Cridgill was given a 10-year exile from France upon completion of his prison term.

Cridgill's wife, alleged to have been an accomplice, was acquitted.

Had Power In Reserve

Southampton.—Shipping officials announced that the S.S. Queen Mary "reached a speed of more than 20 knots with a large margin of power in reserve" on her initial trip here from Clydebank. The mark is considerably under the top speed it is expected the liner will make on her first Atlantic crossing in May.

Revising Relief Costs

Ottawa Plans To Reduce Total Grants After Survey

Ottawa.—Result of surveys showing winter costs of relief were greater than in spring and summer, the Dominion government proposes to revise the present Dominion grants-in-aid to provinces, designed to meet conditions prevailing during the winter months, it was announced in a statement issued by the department of labor. Total grants would be reduced by 15 per cent., making the grants-in-aid to the provinces for April $2,606,286.

"Prior to July 31, 1934," the statement said, "the Dominion contributed on various percentage bases to the expenditures of the provinces for direct relief, the Dominion percentage being equivalent to approximately 38 per cent. of the total expenditures made in connection with direct relief."

From August 1, 1934, the system was changed, and in place of a percentage contribution, grants-in-aid were made to the provinces to assist them in connection with their relief responsibilities, the monthly grant-in-aid to the nine provinces being $3,751,250. This expenditure was equivalent to a Dominion contribution of approximately 28 per cent. of the total joint expenditures."

HITLER SUBMITS A NEW PROGRAM TO ENSURE PEACE

Berlin.—Chancellor Hitler's long-awaited program to insure peace in western Europe, envisaging 25-year peace pacts with France and Belgium and Germany's return to the League of Nations, was delivered to the British government.

The lengthy document, one of the most important pronouncements on foreign policy by der Fuehrer in three years, was hailed in official quarters here as a constructive and far-reaching move.

The general view was that Hitler's program, outlined in counter-proposals following his rejection of the plan drawn up by the four Locarno powers, goes much further than Hitler's original proposals, advanced March 7 when he denounced the Locarno treaty.

The document, in part, said: "Germany earnestly desires to help promote the peace of Europe."

"The German people is determined, under all circumstances, to safeguard its freedom and its independence, and herewith, its equality. It desires, with the most upright heart, to co-operate with all its power in the great work of general reconciliation and understanding among European nations."

Hitler proposed negotiations covering a period of four months for what might be termed a new Locarno, replacing the pact broken by Germany.

During these negotiations, Der Fuehrer suggested, Germany, France and Belgium should accept control of their frontiers by a commission of one representative each from Great Britain, Italy and one neutral power.

Both sides—Germany, which remilitarized the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno pact; and France and Belgium, which protested this action—should refrain from casting aspersions on each other, either in publications, public utterances or teachings.

A plebiscite of the three peoples involved was proposed by Hitler to give solemn sanction to the work of the statesmen, "once negotiations were concluded successfully."

These negotiations, with neither side to increase its military forces along the border zone, would be followed by a general conference for limitation of armaments.

The terms, offering Hitler's way out of the Rhineland impasse, were disclosed after Joachim von Ribbentrop, Der Fuehrer's ambassador-at-large carried them to London to be presented to Eden.

Twenty-seven points, grouped under three major headings and filling 22 typewritten pages, constituted Hitler's reply to the original plan by the other Locarno powers for settlement of the crisis by creation of a new demilitarized zone in Germany, submission of the dispute over the Franco-Soviet pact to the world court and calling of a great international conference.

The first section was devoted to legal consideration of questions of procedure. The second set forth Hitler's proposals for reorganization of Europe on a peaceful basis. The third called for a general conference for limitation of armaments and "humanization" of war.

KING EDWARD HAS APPROVED PLANS FOR CORONATION

London.—King Edward VIII will be crowned in May next year—probably on Thursday, May 27.

Prime Minister Baldwin announced in the House of Commons that His Majesty had approved of arrangements for the coronation ceremony to take place in that month. The actual date, he added, would be announced as soon as possible.

Court circles singled out Thursday, May 27, as the most probable date. It was recalled the coronations of Queen Victoria and King George V. took place on Thursdays—June 28, 1838, and June 22, 1911, respectively. Edward VIII's coronation also was Edward VIII's coronation, while May 13 and 20 are too close to Easter.

The king Thursday participated in a colorful ceremony in connection with his accession, and made it the occasion to voice a fervent plea for peace and to pledge himself to continue service to the empire.

"As Prince of Wales," His Majesty declared, "I bore a device with the ancient motto 'I serve.' As king I shall hold this in constant remembrance, for a king can perform no higher function than that of service."

The king affirmed his determination to do all he could to promote peace and bring about a revival of commerce and industry both at home and abroad.

Conference Of Premiers

Heads Of Western Provinces Going To Ottawa For Finance Parley

Ottawa.—Question of Dominion-provincial financial relations will be re-opened shortly at conferences between Finance Minister Dunning and heads of the western province governments, as a result of the break between Alberta and the federal treasury over the proposed loan council scheme.

Premier T. D. Pattullo, of British Columbia, will be here and it is anticipated the governments of Saskatchewan and Manitoba will also be present, with the possibility that Alberta will be represented.

Refusal of Premier Aberhart of Alberta to commit himself to the loan council scheme has the effect of upsetting the plans of the federal government, worked out at three successive conferences with provincial governments and accepted unanimously by all concerned. What will be the future relations between the Dominion and Alberta remains to be worked out.

Overseas Sales Increased

Greater Interest In Canadian Exhibits At British Industries Fair

Ottawa.—Substantial increases in orders over 1935 were reported by Canadian firms exhibiting at the British industries fair of 1936, held simultaneously at London and Birmingham, in the case of three cabinet makers and one upholsterer.

Interest was displayed at the fair in coffee supplied by a Canadian firm and a new type of canned soup was exhibited which resulted in several large orders, one for 12,600 cases.

Entitled To Pensions

Ottawa.—Ten members of the House of Commons were entitled to pensions for war service, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons by State Secretary Hinet. In the case of three cabinet ministers, Hon. Ian A. MacKenzie, Hon. C. G. Power and Hon. M. C. Rogers, the pensions have been suspended.

The German delegates are seen above as they arrived at Croydon by airplane to attend the special session of the League of Nations Council in London. Hon. von Ribbentrop, Hitler's special ambassador; is the second from the left, while Herr von Hoesch, German Ambassador to London, is the second from the right.

In some quarters much is being made of the fact that the Social Credit government was elected in the face of the opposition of the great majority of the newspapers of the province. However, the opposition of the newspapers was based on their contention that Premier Aberhart's plan of Social Credit could not possibly be successfully carried out. Now if the government can carry out the plan and pay $25.00 a month or its equivalent without increasing public debt or taxes or without confiscating private property, then the newspapers were wrong. However, if the government cannot carry out its promised program the newspapers were right. —Hanna Herald.

Hurriedly dressing, he jumped into a taxicab and arrived at the legislative buildings, puffing his way up the stairs and into the chamber. The rest of the time before adjournment he spent in shaking his fist at chortling members.
